3. Convert the given tense of the following paragraph into future tense.
I travelled to London to visit the Queen of England. Being a clever fellow, I disguised myself as a prince and walked into Buckingham Palace as if I owned it. After receiving directions from a chambermaid, I stepped into the Queen's bedroom and surprised Her Royal Highness with a hearty pat on the back. Then, of course, I tipped my hat, bowed, and delivered the usual praises. After unlocking a jar of ice cream, we exchanged pleasantries and talked about our families for more than an hour. I showed her my photograph album and my stamp collection, and she showed me her historic collection of jewels. After a thoroughly entertaining visit, I traded email addresses with Her Majesty and then bid her goodbye.

I get up at about 8 'o'clock and go downstairs for some breakfast. I walk down to the shop and I buy a banana and some orange juice. I come back home and make myself a cup of tea. Next, I listen to the football on the radio before I go and meet some friends of the cinema. I then watch a film called Alice in Wonderland and then Igo back home. I cook some chicken and pasta for my dinner and I eat it quickly because I am hungry.	4. Convert the given tense of the following paragraph into past tense.

READ-O-METER READING TIME

Dear Parent,

Request you to encourage your child to read online books on https://www.kidsa-z.com/main/Login. The students will have a class story telling session just after winter break in which they will narrate a story read by them during the holidays. To make it an enriching and fulfilling experience, the students may carry props with them. As a rule of thumb, the narration time should not be more than 3-4 minutes.
