THE TRIANGULAR CONFERENCE

A Triangular Conference was organised at GDGWS on Saturday, September 23, 2023. This event was all about collaboration between parents, teachers, and school authorities to nurture the holistic development of our exceptional GDGWS students.

The day began with a warm welcome to our dedicated parents. Principal Mrs. Sonali Sinha's leadership was at the forefront. Her commitment to empowering staff, fostering teamwork, and creating a positive work environment is the cornerstone of the school's success. She shared her inspiring vision for this unique parent-school collaboration, underlining the unwavering commitment to prioritizing the welfare and development of our amazing students.

Dr. Manisha Mehta, DHM, Head-IBDP; Major Kartikeya Sharma, GD Goenka Education City Administrator; Ms. Asha Yadav, Head-IGCSE, AS & A Level; Deepti Kaushal, Head-CLS; Ms. Poonam Singh, Head-IBPYP, and all our dedicated teachers joined the conversation to engage with parents, address queries, and gather their valuable feedback.

The forum was open for discussions on general concerns relevant to the entire student community. The aim was to create a platform where everyone's voice is heard, and collaboration flourishes.

GDGWS Fire & Emergency Disaster Mock Drill

At GDGWS, we are committed to the safety and preparedness of our students. Recently, we organized a Fire and Emergency Disaster Mock Drill for all students.

This exercise focused on raising awareness and ensuring our students are well-prepared in case of emergencies. Safety procedures, quick thinking, and preparedness are vital skills that extend beyond the classroom.

Kudos to our students for their active participation, and heartfelt appreciation to our dedicated staff for their unwavering commitment to our community's safety.

Rendezvous with the Shooting Champ

GDGWS had the privilege of hosting the remarkable Shreya Aggarwal, a shooting sensation! Shreya Agarwal, the pride of Jabalpur, recently clinched the team gold in the 10m air rifle event at the ISSF World Cup in Baku, Azerbaijan, making her father's dream come true.

At just 23 years, Shreya boasts an impressive record with 21 international and 15 national medals under her belt. Our students were absolutely delighted to meet her in person, talk to her, and gain valuable insights into the world of shooting. Her journey is an inspiration to all aspiring athletes.

GLIMPSES OF THE INTERVIEW

What Challenges did you face when you started shooting?

I had difficulties with managing my studies with shooting practice. I could not take out time for other aspects of my life like my friends, but in the end, I chose hard work over my enjoyment.

Who inspired you to work extremely hard towards your goal?

My parents inspired me to work towards my goal. Even though they were always occupied with their jobs, they gave me full guidance and never insisted on stopping me from training. I am thankful to them for their continuous assistance.

What is your input on women in sports?

At first, my parents were hesitant to send me to competitions but it was very safe. Usually, girls mostly stick to academics instead of sports due to the stress and the safety of it all, but my parents let me compete as they were assured of my safety at all times."

STUDENTS' VOICES

Earth Poem

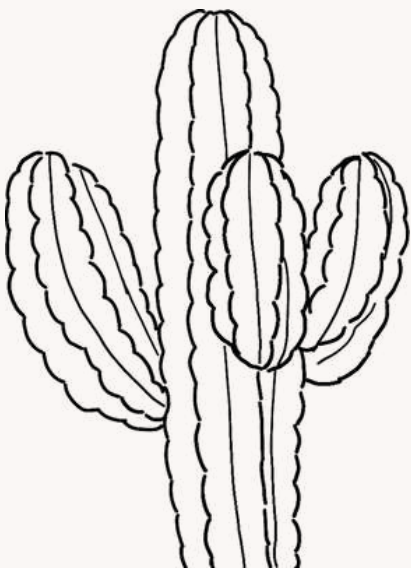

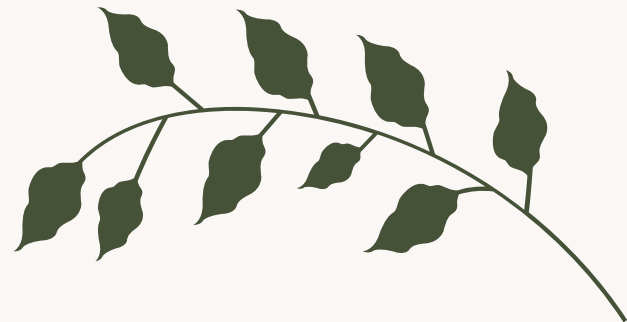

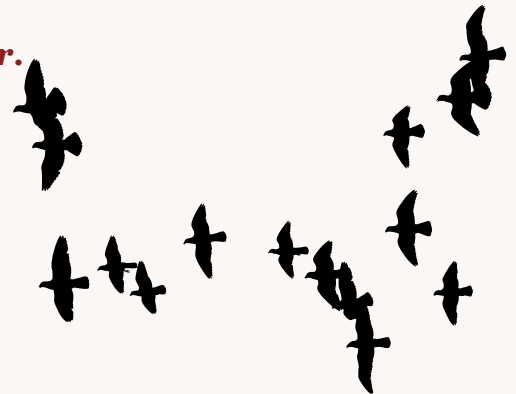

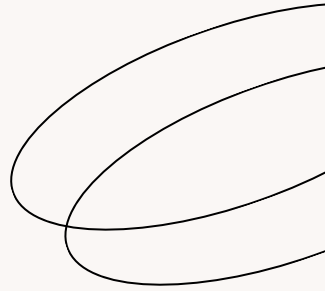

*Sailing into the wide blue yonder,
I am the serene bountiful earth.
Wanting and praying every moment to be glorious,
I see the mighty radiant sun showering warmth.
I hear the solitary voice inside me,
And I worry if I could support your survival forever.
I pretend I am vibrant but unfortunately,
I'm old and I'm tired,
I hope all living souls won't snap my faith.
I touch nothing in space,
I just rotate, revolve and embrace you in my lap.
I worry about the depleting resources,
I cry when you blemish and scar me.
I am still a fighter, still a warrior,
wounded and gazed,
longing for the moment of pride!
My folks, will you ever love me selflessly?*

-By Praveka Singh Grade 9

Nature

*All around you are nature,
From plants to trees to a creature.
With everything glowing with greenery,
Making the view a perfect scenery.
The trees sway,
All in one way.
Leaves running away,
All through the day.
The ocean waves clash with the shore,
Returning to do it once more.
When the clouds cry,
It never lets the lands dry.
The winds want to go on and on,
The strong one carrying a ton.
Thunder striking everywhere,
Leaving its anger traces here and there.*

SHORT STORY BY MANIL MIDDHA (GRADE 9 IGCSE)

Long ago, there once existed a hidden kingdom which was located near a dense forest. fortress-like vines embraced the kingdom which kept it hidden from other travelers and adventurers. The king who had ruled this kingdom for the past thirteen years no longer was able to do so because of his death, so the election for the new one took place after a few days.

Participation letters were sent to the citizens of the kingdom and just as expected, only a few participated. One of them was the most trusted soldier of the kingdom. Jason always used to stay beside the king, protecting him with his life. Since he was not once seen in battle, people started believing that he was the weakest soldier and rumours started spreading about him. One of the rumours was that he was actually the one who murdered the king. Day by day people started believing this rumor because the death of the monarch was still unknown.

The day of the election began and each and every participant had to meet in the middle of the forest. Though it took some time, Jason reached his destination. all the other participants were lined up together and the election was about to begin. The judges were the late king's most trusted general's-general Robert and General Camilla. They announced that the election was going to be quite different this time and then began reading out the instructions. Teams of two will be divided among the twelve participants and they will have to survive in the jungle for two nights which consists of poisonous snakes, deadly bears, wolves and much more. any kind of weapons are allowed. there were only two rules: you can't leave before the two nights and you can't kill each other. Jason's partner was Lia, his childhood friend. After happily reuniting. Jason picked out a polearm and his partner- Lia picked out a bow and arrow. then it began...all of the contestants started entering the forest with their weapons and so it began.

Knowing that they were surrounded by enemies, Lia and Jason couldn't afford to sleep. They found a perfect hiding place beside a tree in which no one could find them...or so they thought. Suddenly, a dark figure approached them, they picked up their weapons ready for a fight but to their surprise, it was just another pair of contestants.

'Isn't that the guy who "killed" the king?' said one of the contestants spitefully.

Just as Jason was about to continue the argument, Lia shot an arrow which Jason barely missed. She kept on shooting the arrows until she inflicted the last arrow with poison and managed to shoot Jason with it.

'You betrayed me?' whispered Jason.

'You fool...I did not betray you...I betrayed the kingdom'. Lia said sadistically.

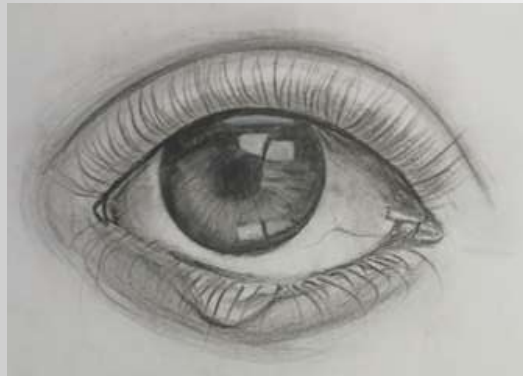

Lia finally admitted that she was the one who shot the king to become the new ruler of the kingdom. she started shouting about how she was supposed to be next in line anyway, but the general's new election messed up her plan. She then told him how she was going to finish off all the remaining contestants, then the general would have no choice but to make her the new ruler because they would think that the other participants got assassinated by the animals.

Just as Jason was about to draw his last breath, the general came running in and attacked Lia. She might be strong but she was no match for the general's. They gave Jason the cure to the poison and ended the election. Though another one was held soon after, he decided not to participate in that after retiring from his job as a soldier and continued his life as a normal citizen.
